The American Journal of Psychology (ISSN print 0002-9556, electronic 1939-2898) was founded in the interest of general experimental psychology and is devoted to the basic science of the mind. The Journal publishes reports of original experimental research, presentations of theory, theoretical and experimental analyses, historical commentaries, and reviews of books in the area. Articles should be submitted electronically to the AJP online manuscript submission system. This secure, personalized resource will allow you to track your manuscript through each step of the review and acceptance process: <http://ojs.press.illinois.edu/index.php/ajp/user/register>. Or if you already have an Upload account: <http://ojs.press.illinois.edu/index.php/ajp/login>. Books intended for review and proposals for book reviews should be sent to Dominic W. Massaro, Book Review Editor, massaro@ucsc.edu. For further information on the policies and domain of the Journal, authors should refer to the Editorial Statement on the journal’s Website, <http://www.press.uillinois.edu/journals/ajp.html>. More specific submission instructions may be found there and on the inside back cover of this issue.

Or if you already have an Upload account:

<http://ojs.press.illinois.edu/index.php/ajp/login>

Contributors are asked to follow the style in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th ed., 2009, and to consult Appendix A, Checklist for Manuscript Submission, in the Manual as a guide.

Everything should be double-spaced—abstract, text, references, notes, captions.

Please include all statistical indices, descriptive and inferential, required for evaluation of your experimental findings.

The abstract should not exceed 250 words.

Special mathematical symbols and abbreviations should be identified.

All elements in a figure should be large enough to be readable when the drawing is reduced to fit the maximum width of 11 cm. Figures should be submitted as .TIF or .JPG files with a resolution of at least 300 dpi.

All titles in the reference list should be spelled out rather than abbreviated.

References cited in the text should agree with those in the reference list.

A copy of the letter of permission for the use of previously published material (e.g., long extracts and reproductions of figures) should be included.

The submitted manuscript should not be under concurrent review elsewhere.

Books intended for review and proposals for book reviews should be sent to:
