REPRINTING AND COPYING FOR CLASS USE

The American Philosophical Quarterly regrets that it cannot make reprints available to authors. However, authors are authorized to send a limited number of PDF versions of their papers (no more than thirty) to selected colleagues after publication.

For authorization to photocopy from American Philosophical Quarterly for uses exceeding those permitted by Sections 107 and 108 of the U.S. Copyright Law, contact the Copyright Clearance Center (CCC), 222 Rosewood Drive, Danvers, MD 01923. The CCC will send an invoice for permissions fees. Permissions given above do not extend to copying for advertising or promotional purposes or to creating new collective works.

While the journal holds the copyright on materials published in its pages, it routinely accords contributors permission to reprint in books or anthologies authored or coauthored by themselves. The journal gives teachers and their institutions blanket permission for reproducing individual articles for class use at a fee of $2.00 per copy, payable in advance to the American Philosophical Quarterly. All other requests to reprint should be addressed to the University of Illinois Press, 1325 S. Oak Street, Champaign, IL 61820-6903, UIP-RIGHTS@uillinois.edu.

MANUSCRIPTS

The American Philosophical Quarterly welcomes original articles that advance our understanding of philosophical problems or positions, on any aspect of philosophy apart from history. Articles are subject to blind review and evaluated based on originality, rigor, depth of insight, mastery of relevant literature, and lucidity of style. The journal does not publish news items, book reviews, critical notices, or "discussion notes" (short or long). The journal does not consider articles under consideration elsewhere.

Contributions should be 2,000 to 7,000 words in length and formatted as a Word document (or a file type compatible with MS Word). All files should be double spaced throughout. Endnotes are preferred to footnotes and should be used sparingly. In order to ensure anonymity of submissions, authors using Word are advised to go to "File . . . Properties . . ." and delete all author-identifying information, under all tabs.

Articles should be submitted electronically to the APQ online manuscript submission system here: <http://www.press.uillinois.edu/journals/apq/apqsubmissions.html>. This secure, personalized resource will allow you to track your manuscript through each step of the review and acceptance process. Enquiries to Professor Patrick Grim, Stony Brook and University of Michigan, americanphilquarterly@gmail.com.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS QUARTERLY

Public Affairs Quarterly (PAQ) publishes work in all areas of practically engaged normative philosophy, broadly understood to include normative work on issues of public concern in applied moral, social, political, and legal philosophy. Topics covered by the journal include subjects of long-standing debate such as abortion, capital punishment, and just war theory; more recently emerging subjects of controversy such as climate change, affirmative action, commercial surrogacy, and the treatment of non-human animals; topics relating to current social movements such as racism and sexual harassment, and to current technological developments such as gene editing and autonomous weapons systems. Submissions of a more general nature that address implications for a cluster of such issues rather than focusing on a single issue are welcome. These topics include race, sexuality, gender, social identity, nationalism, paternalism, privacy, distributive justice, economic fairness, political inequality, and commodification.

The journal is published four times a year, in January, April, July, and October. Subscriptions should be sent to: Journals Department, University of Illinois Press, 1325 S. Oak St., Champaign, IL 61820; phone: 866-244-0626 (toll free), or 217-244-0626; fax: 217-244-8082; e-mail: journals@uillinois.edu; www.press.uillinois.edu. Rates are $60 for individuals or $353 (print only or electronic only) or $397 (print and electronic) for institutions. All other correspondence, or submissions for possible publication, should be addressed to:

HISTORY OF PHILOSOPHY QUARTERLY

The History of Philosophy Quarterly is a scholarly journal that aims to cultivate philosophical history in the spirit of philosophia perennis. HPQ approaches the history of philosophy and philosophy itself as parts of a whole, seeing the work of past philosophers not only as objects of historical inquiry but also ways to address current problems of philosophy. Hence, HPQ finds no impassible boundary between philosophy and its history, regarding historical studies as a way of dealing with problems of continuing interest and importance. Each issue is devoted entirely to articles: no book reviews and no discussion notes, though general surveys on particular topics may be published.

Subscriptions should be sent to: Journals Department, University of Illinois Press, 1325 S. Oak St., Champaign, IL 61820; phone: 866-244-0626 (toll free), or 217-244-0626; fax: 217-244-8082; e-mail: journals@uillinois.edu; www.press.uillinois.edu. Rates are $60 for individuals or $353 (print only or electronic only) or $397 (print and electronic) for institutions.
