AJTP is a scholarly journal dedicated to the creative interchange of ideas between theologians and philosophers on some of the most critical intellectual and ethical issues of our time.

The goal of the AJTP is to promote lively conversation among theologians and philosophers by providing a forum for discussions.

Areas include:
1) the interface between theology and philosophy, and
2) the development of liberal religious thought in America.

HPQ specializes in papers that cultivate philosophical history with a strong interaction between contemporary and historical concerns.

Contributors regard work in the history of philosophy and in philosophy itself as parts of a seamless whole—historical inquiry and ongoing philosophical concern.

The journal favors the approach to philosophical history that refuses to see the boundary between philosophy and its history as an impassable barrier.

History of Philosophy Quarterly

Published on behalf of North American Philosophical Publications
Public Affairs Quarterly

Published on behalf of North American Philosophical Publications

Publishes in all areas of practically engaged normative philosophy, broadly understood to include normative work on issues of public concern in applied moral, social, political, and legal philosophy.

PAQ welcomes contributions from a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches on any practically oriented topic in any of these areas.

Submissions that address implications for a cluster of such issues rather than focusing on a single issue are also welcome.

Process Studies is dedicated to the study of the thought and wide-ranging implications of Alfred North Whitehead (1861–1947) and his intellectual associates, most notably Charles E. Hartshorne (1897–2000).

The mandate of Process Studies is to explore Whiteheadian-Hartshornean process thought at an advanced level and as it appears in related philosophies and theologies, applying the Whiteheadian-Hartshornean conceptuality to a wide range of other fields.

The Pluralist is a peer-reviewed journal dedicated to advancing the ends of philosophical thought and dialogue in all widely used philosophical methodologies. The journal seeks to express philosophical insights and concerns humanely and with an eye to literary as well as philosophical excellence, but technical papers are welcome. The Pluralist upholds the Socratic dictum of self-knowledge and the love of wisdom as the purpose of philosophy.
