The Journal of Finnish Studies (JFS) follows the Chicago Manual of Style (17th edition), author-date references conventions. In-text notes are in the form of footnotes at the bottom of the page in which the note is inserted for the convenience of readers. Footnotes should be used sparingly. Although submissions are not required to be paginated by the author, if this is most convenient, please place page numbers in the center bottom position of each page.

Articles should be submitted electronically to the JFS online manuscript submission system. This secure, personalized resource will allow you to track your manuscript through the review and acceptance process. To begin, visit <https://ojs-jfs.press.uillinois.edu/index.php/jfs/index> to set up your personal account and upload your submission. Your transmitted material will be reviewed as soon as possible. Before submitting, please refer to the detailed style guide available in the submission tab: <https://www.press.uillinois.edu/journals/?id=jfs>. There is no predetermined length requirement for article submissions. The manuscripts are typically 15–20 typed pages.
