Connecticut History Review

A Publication of the Association for the Study of Connecticut History

Connecticut History Review serves many different constituencies: museum and historical society professionals, academic scholars, history buffs, graduate students, and educators.

Each issue of the Connecticut History Review contains original research articles, book reviews, and research notes on the history and culture of Connecticut.

The only academic journal devoted to the history of Connecticut, it publishes twice annually, in the spring and fall.

MIDCONTINENTAL JOURNAL OF ARCHAEOLOGY

Journal of the Midwest Archaeological Conference

The MCJA seeks original articles on Eastern Woodlands archaeology of the region between the Appalachian Mountains and the Great Plains, from the Boreal Forests to the Gulf of Mexico, and on closely related subjects.

Our contributions range in chronology and context from the kill sites of the continents' first inhabitants to the privies of early 20th century city dwellers.

We are especially interested in manuscripts that apply contemporary theory or method to existing problems and data sets in the midcontinent and that are of broad, general interest across the region.
