The Illinois State Historical Society

The mission of The Illinois State Historical Society, founded in 1899, is to foster awareness, understanding, research, preservation, and recognition of history in Illinois.

The Illinois State Historical Society provides its Journal free to members. Membership is open to anyone interested in Illinois history. Dues are $30 for Students (online only, current student ID and e-mail address is required); $60 Individual (print + online, one person, e-mail address required); $70 Family (print + online, one household, single address, e-mail required); $75 Institutional (public or private businesses, schools, libraries, museums, historical societies, or clubs who wish to support Illinois history research; print only); $85 Institutional (online only); $100 Institutional (print + online). For donor categories visit www.historyillinois.org. For back issues, please contact University of Illinois Press, journals@uillinois.edu, or call 217-333-0950.

We welcome essays, articles, and documents about Illinois, or its Midwest region. Studies about literature, art, technology, law, or other subjects are also welcome. Authors should follow The Chicago Manual of Style, 17th ed. or imitate notes in this journal; use endnotes. Authors who desire illustrations should provide them. Articles average 12,000 words (including notes) but we have accepted articles from 4,000 to 15,000 words. The Journal prefers to work with electronic files of manuscripts. Please submit your manuscript via e-mail to journaleditor@historyillinois.org. Send books for review to Aaron Lisec; Book Review Editor, IJSHS, Special Collections Research Center, Morris Library, Mail Code 6632, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901; email: alisec@siu.edu.

Articles appearing in the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society are available to members and subscriber institutions through the Scholarly Publishing Collective. Articles are also abstracted and indexed in both Historical Abstracts and America: History and Life. The Journal is included in the Scholarly Publishing Collective and JSTOR, and is a member of the Conference of Historical Journals.

Neither the editors nor the Illinois State Historical Society assume any responsibility for statements, whether fact or opinion, made by contributors.

Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society (ISSN 1522-1067, e-ISSN 2328-3246) is published four times per year (Spring, Summer, Fall, and Winter) by the University of Illinois Press for the Illinois State Historical Society.

A copy of the Society’s publications list is available upon request.

Women, Gender, and Families of Color

WGFC is a multidisciplinary journal that centers on the study of Black, Latina, Indigenous, and Asian American women, gender, and families.

Edited by:
Jennifer F. Hamer
Ayesha Hardison

Within this framework, the journal encourages theoretical and empirical research from history, the social and behavioral sciences, and humanities including comparative and transnational research, and analyses of domestic social, political, economic, and cultural policies and practices within the United States.
