Erratum

In the special issue, “Stanisław Lem in the Twenty-First Century” (The Polish Review 68.2), an English translation of an interview with Professor Mitsuyoshi Numano conducted in Polish by Professor Elżbieta Skibińska appears. The following note of acknowledgment was inadvertently deleted during production:

The Polish Review would like to express gratitude to Warstwy publisher Irek Grin and editors Professor Stanisław Bereś and Katarzyna Batorowicz-Wołowiec for their permission to use the Polish text as a basis for this English translation. The Polish original of the interview appears in fragments in Lem: Reaktywacja. Kongres Lemologiczny, edited by Stanisław Bereś and Katarzyna Batorowicz-Wołowiec (Wrocław: Wydawnictwo Warstwy, 2022).

The journal regrets the error.

An interdisciplinary, double-blind refereed scholarly journal welcoming articles, edited documents, and related materials dealing with all aspects of the history and culture of Poles in the Western Hemisphere. They particularly welcome contributions that place the Polish experience in historical and comparative perspective as part of the larger Polish Diaspora, and by examining its relationship to other ethnic groups.

The Journal of English and Germanic Philology (JEGP) focuses on Northern European literatures of the Middle Ages, covering Medieval English, Germanic, and Celtic Studies. The word “medieval” potentially encompasses the earliest Germanic and Celtic texts; the vernacular and Latin literatures of the Middle Ages in Britain, Ireland, Germany, and Scandinavia; and any continuities and transitions linking the literatures of the medieval and post-medieval eras, including modern “medievalisms” and the history of medieval literary scholarship.
