The Polish Review is a peer-reviewed, multidisciplinary scholarly quarterly. It aims to disseminate new research in the various fields of Polish studies broadly understood. To accomplish this goal, the Review publishes original research articles, review essays, book reviews, and annotated translations of documents and literary works. It also encourages comparative research methodologies that provide a wider context for Polish studies. The journal uses a double-blind peer-review process. The editors accept no responsibility for statements of fact or opinion made by contributors.

The Polish Review is indexed in ABC POL SCI; America: History and Life; American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies; Bibliographic Index; Current Abstracts; Historical Abstracts; Index of Articles on Jewish Studies; International Political Science Abstracts; MLA International Bibliography; Periodical Index Online; PubMed; TOC Premier; JSTOR; and EBSCO. It is also listed among the journals recognized by the American Historical Association and the Polish Ministry of Education and Research.

HOW TO SUBMIT ARTICLES: Manuscripts should be submitted in Microsoft Word via e-mail attachment to the Editor, Halina Filipowicz, at hfilipow@wisc.edu. The length of each submission should be 6,000 to 10,000 words plus notes, tables, etc. Each manuscript should include an abstract of approximately 250 words. Manuscripts are evaluated in a double-blind peer-review process on the basis of their originality, the scope of research, and the clarity of the thesis, presentation, and conclusions.
