In 1897, public-spirited Utahns organized the Utah State Historical Society in order to expand public understanding of Utah’s past. Today, the Society publishes the Utah Historical Quarterly (ISSN 0043-441C; eISSN 2374-6612), which has collected and preserved Utah’s history since 1928. The Society, which is part of the Utah Department of Cultural and Community Engagement, also collects materials related to the history of Utah and makes them available online and in a research library. The Utah History Day program, offers extensive online resources, and assists in public policy and the promotion of Utah’s rich history.

The Utah Historical Society (UHQ) is published quarterly in winter, spring, summer, and fall by the University of Illinois Press for the Utah Historical Society. Members of the Society receive UHQ upon payment of annual dues. Visit history.utah.gov to join the Utah Historical Society and receive your own copy of the journal. For institutional subscriptions, see https://www.press.uillinois.edu/journals/subscribe_now.php?id=uhq.

The contents and opinions published here do not necessarily reflect the views or policies of the Utah Historical Society.

For submission and style guidelines visit history.utah.gov/utah-historical-quarterly.

Articles and book reviews represent the views of the authors and are not necessarily those of the Utah Historical Society.

UHQ welcomes letters to the editor. Letters are published occasionally and online. We reserve the right to restrict word count and edit content.